KIDS' WRITES 2011 SCHOOL TOUR

Now celebrating its 29th year, Kids' Writes is the popular show that involves elementary school students and an ensemble of young VYT actors in a writing-acting collaboration. Without changing a word of the original, stories and poems are dramatized in simple, story-theatre style using costume pieces, props, masks, and sound effects.

Kids' Writes both enhances literacy goals among educators, and provides an opportunity for the voices and creativity of young writers and actors.

Teachers may wish to send their students' writing to VYT in consideration for *Kids' Writes 2011

Creative Writing submissions due: Friday, December 10, 2010

School Tour Dates:

- April 13, 21, 26, 29
- May 4, 10, 13, 17, 27

Fee: $575.00 ($300 due at time of booking)

Audience: Grades K-7 (maximum of 600)

Contact: Jennifer Hogg, Production Manager

Questions & Answers About Actors on Tour

Who are the actors in KIDS' WRITES?

The actors are particularly talented elementary students in the Lower Mainland who have been selected at an audition at the Vancouver Youth Theatre. Most of these advanced actors have experience and training from Vancouver Youth Theatre's programmes offered throughout the year. These programmes promote self expression, self esteem, and friendship, as well as creating a pool of talent for shows such as Kids' Writes.

Can anyone join a programme at Vancouver Youth Theatre?

Yes! We have programmes for new actors as well as for more advanced actors, and for all age groups from 6 to 19 years of age. Most of our programmes culminate in a final performance for family and friends, often an original play which has been created from the actors' ideas with the help of a professional director.

Call us at 604-877-0678 for a more detailed brochure of current programs or visit our Website at www.vyt.ca!
